

Financial Aid 90 Credit Hour Loan Limit Policy

According to the STCLH student handbook, "A candidate for a Doctor of Jurisprudence degree must meet all entrance requirements, complete with a passing grade all required courses, earn at least 90 semester hours of credit with a passing grade."

Federal law limits the amount of financial aid available to a student who has met all graduation requirements. Therefore, a student will not be eligible for federal student aid for any class over 90 credits.

However, if a student is considered to be under Academic Supervision and is notified by the Registrar that he/she is required to enroll in a class or classes over the 90 credit, he/she can receive federal aid. In this case, federal aid will be available for only those classes prescribed by the Registrar.